CAMPAIGN FOR LAW BUILDING STARTED

Law School Bulletin Will Ask Contributions of Alumni

A vigorous campaign for a new Law School building will be begun with the publication of the Columbian-George Washington Law School Association Bulletin containing appeals for subscriptions to the building fund which at present is about $30,000, or one-third of the $100,000 required.

President Charles H. Stockton, Dean Everett Fraser and William B. King, president of the Law School Association have written articles for the Bulletin urging contributions to the fund. Prof. William C. Van Vleck is editor of the Bulletin, which will be sent to every alumnus of the Law School.

Six facts set forth in the Bulletin are: (1) The school is not a commercial project, but is performing a public service often at great sacrifice. (2) For fifty-one years the school has been graduating students, mostly those self-supporting. (3) The school is one of the leading schools of the country. (4) No graduate ever paid thru his tuition for his work. (5) Every graduate is affected by the success or failure of the school. (6) If each of the fifty-one classes graduated since 1866 would raise $1,000, the fund would be assured.

President Charles Herbert Stockton says: "The Law School has always held a leading position among the law schools of the country with respect to its teaching staff, its high standards, and the quality of its students. By the financial misfortune which overtook the university some years ago, this school lost its former quarters. The financial condition of the university now justifies a proposition to erect a building to house the Law School in a suitable and dignified manner."

Dean Fraser in his article says that each raise in entrance requirements and requirements for degree has cost students and that "for every student matriculated this year another seeking admission was found ineligible." "The plan is to ask for subscriptions payable in three annual installments," says Mr. King, "and all alumni are requested to contribute in proportion to their means and their interest in advancing legal education."

22 MEN REPORT FOR BASKETBALL TEAM

Coach Colliflower Predicts Good Season—Six of Last Year's Men Back—Want More Practice Time

Twenty-two candidates have reported for the varsity basketball team. First practice was held Tuesday night at the Y. M. C. A. gym.

Six of last year's squad, Capt. Groesbeck, Almon, Mathews, Allen, Wilson, and Ritzhaupt, are back. New men, many experienced, are: Hillis and Culligan of the football squad; Leonard, Lenovitz, Deck, Todd, Cleary, Michel, Lucal, Castro, Dazey, Lang, Pemberton, Bixler, Hall and Heist.

Coach Colliflower is pleased at the large squad and is looking forward to a good season. Practice is held every Tuesday and Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A. gym from 7 to 7:45 o'clock. Coach Colliflower will insist that every man is in his togs promptly at 7, as the gym can be used for a short three-quarters of an hour.

The use of another hall for additional practice is being sought, as Coach Colliflower feels that the team needs more practice for its hard schedule.

New men should report with togs to Manager Daidy at the Y. M. C. A. at 6:45 o'clock.

Manager Daidy is being assisted in his work by J. C. Leonard, assistant manager, but can use three more assistants.

SHOULD ELECT MARSHALS

Marshals should be selected in the senior classes before February 18, President Stockton has announced.

TEAM AND ROOTERS AWAIT G. U. GAME

HERE'S THE TEAM THAT WILL GIVE GEORGETOWN A FIGHT

GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY FOOTBALL SQUAD

Cheers and Parade By Loyal Students

March to Game—Girls Will Cheer. Mass Meetings Wednesday—Athletic Finances Depend on Attendance

All out for the G. U. game! Every student, professor or alumnus, man or woman, go to the G. W. U. game and root, is the demand of the athletic management and the student body.

A big parade to the Georgetown field starting at the Medical School, 1325 H street, at 1 o'clock will begin the day's spirit display. The band will lead with University and popular music. Banners will be prominent. At the Medical Building, G. W. U. arm bands, pennants, and siren whistles will be on sale. Cheers will be given on the way to the game.

At the game, the G. W. rooting section will be on the east side of the field. The rooting will be the most vigorous of the year. Megaphones, noise-making machines and yells will be plentiful. Learn the yells, urge the cheerleaders.

Girls will not be barred from the rooting section, but welcomed. In Columbian College they have been practicing some new lively songs. Each Medical School student intends to bring a girl, equipped with a megaphone to help him cheer.

The University Band will make its first appearance, lead by David Davis, with Tom Stayton as drummajor, and will urge the team on with University and popular airs.

A snake dance between the halves will surpass any former dance.

Charles Lynch, head cheer leader, and Eugene Underwood, and a Medical School cheer leader not yet selected will order cheers. They will wear G. W. sweaters and white flannel trousers.

Thanksgiving will be the "big" day when students, employed or day, will be able to root for their team.

Several cheering-mass meetings are planned for Wednesday afternoon before the game. At the Department of Arts and Sciences the cheer leaders will teach cheers beginning at 4:45 o'clock, and there will be spirit speeches. The Medical and Law Schools will hold similar meetings.

"It must be remembered that the proceeds of the G. U. game will determine the amount of money available for the track and both basketball teams," Graduate Manager Hodgkins says in urging all students to swell the attendance at the game by inviting friends.

MEDICAL SOCIETY MEETS

The George Washington Medical Society met last Saturday evening in the Medical School and heard a lecture by Dr. Shepherd Ivory Franz, professor of physiology and experimental psychology.

HOW TO GET TICKETS

A ticket to the Georgetown game and the athletic season ticket will be ready for each tax signer on Monday or before. Both, together with a receipt to be signed, will be left where tax signers can call and secure them.

Department of Arts and Sciences signers can get tickets at The Hatchet office, Medical and Dental School signers should see H. D. Shapiro, Law School signers will be given theirs at the Law School office, and James B. Patterson and Perry M. Johnson will distribute tickets to the Veterinary and Pharmacy Colleges, respectively.

The Georgetown game tickets will be worth $1 or general admission. This ticket and fifty cents may be exchanged for a reserved seat in the rooting section (ask for G. W. U. rooting section tickets) at Spaulding's.

65 FOR MILITARY CLASS

Immediate Action Necessary To Begin Year Course Now

Sixty-five men have promised to enroll in a one-year military course if it is given in the University. A hundred are needed to obtain the co-operation of the War Department and establishment of the course.

Capt. H. J. McKenney, Twelfth Cavalry U. S. A., who proposed the course and who probably would become the professor of military science, urges immediate action by all interested.

"Let each man interested sign for the course and do vigorous recruiting work," he said. "The hundred men must be obtained very soon if the course is to be given this year."

The necessary 35 more men could be obtained over night if President Wilson would grant a government half holiday on all Saturdays, is the opinion of both President Stockton and Dean Hodgkins.

Forty-three men in Columbian College have signed, twenty in the College of Engineering, and one each in the Law School and the Veterinary College. They are:

Columbian College—F. M. Bedda, M. F. Brandenburg, E. C. Burt, R. G. Carter, F. A. Calkin, J. F. Carmody, J. F. Dudley, W. Eisenger, W. R. Beall, C. W. Coleman, Henry Fisher.

Team Eager For Hilltop Warriors

"Will Fight With Heart and Soul" says Coach Sullivan—Men in Good Physical Trim

They are ready for the fight! Coach Sullivan's charges have been working constantly since the Eastern College game for the "big" game of the season against the Georgetown eleven on Thanksgiving Day at the Hilltop field at 2:30 o'clock.

Coach Thomas L. Sullivan makes this statement regarding the game:

"The team will enter the Georgetown game fighting with heart and soul for a victory. I regret to say that the student body has not supported football in the proper manner. The loyalty, fight and work of the members of the football squad during the entire season places the responsibility of this same loyalty, fight and work upon every George Washington man and woman. The team deserves your united support. Are you going to give it?"

The men who will start the game for George Washington will probably be: Niederhauser, L. E., 163; Kerr, L. T., 181; Genessee, L. G., 170; Giblin, C., 148; E. Harmon, R. G., 175; Supplee, R. T., 195; Eckendorf, R. E., 145; Culligan or Pepper, Q. B., 132 or 137; Giacomo, L. H. B., 158; Hillis, capt., F. B., 158; Hefferman, R. H. B., 159. The average team weight is about 160 pounds.

"The team is in excellent physical condition," said Dr. Dan L. Borden, University Physician, "Hillis' knee is well, Eckendorf's shoulder allows him to play, Pepper's knee is well, and King was able to report on Wednesday."

The team has been drilled against Georgetown plays and taught how to break them up. Each day it has scrimmaged against the second team or some other team. Coach Sullivan has some new plays, and in chalk talks has explained football tactics.

"We have a fine defensive," said Graduate Manager Hodgkins, "the battle will be worth seeing. Georgetown has a fine team this year, but our men are also good."

The team did its best work of the season in a scrimmage against Catholic University Wednesday afternoon. The backs did good work, and Hillis drop kicked several field goals.

COUNCIL RECOMMENDS NEW ATHLETIC SYSTEM

Would Have Board of 8 Control; Adopts Constitution

ELECTION OF COUNCILMEN AN ISSUE

Miss McGrew, College '19, Appointed. Sophs May Give Prom—No Faculty on Proposed Athletic Board—Rooting Committee Appointed

A departure in athletic management was recommended when the Student Council at its meeting Tuesday approved plans for an Athletic Board to control all athletics.

A new constitution, prepared by John S. Bixler and Bertram Groesbeck, was adopted. Under it the Council is organized and has practically the same powers as at present.

The Athletic Board would consist of the Graduate Manager of Athletics as chairman, the chairman of the athletic committee of the Student Council as vice-chairman, the other two members of the Council athletic committee, and the managers of the football, basketball, track and girls' basketball teams. This board, if the recommendation of the Council is approved by the Faculty Committee on Student Activities and the Board of Trustees, would at once assume the powers of the Graduate Manager of Athletics to arrange schedules, award letters, and expend athletic money.

The Council recommended the establishment of the board on the report of its athletic committee, Bertram Groesbeck, chairman. A motion that the chairman of the faculty committee on athletics be a member of the Board was not adopted.

Altho the constitution adopted provides for the present method of appointment of Council members by the Faculty Committee on Student Activities, C. R. Draper gave notice that he intends to propose at next meeting an amendment providing for the election of active members of the Council by popular vote of the departments they represent. A fight over the amendment is expected.

Miss Martha McGrew, '19, has been appointed to the Council from Columbian College. She is the second girl (Continued on page 2)

TAX ONLY $7 NOW; INCLUDES G. U. GAME TICKET

Students who have not yet signed for the activities tax can do so now at a reduction of a dollar, or for $7 for the remainder of the year, Dean Fraser has announced.

This will include admission to the Georgetown game, Thanksgiving, worth one dollar, in addition to medical benefits, a subscription to The Hatchet, one copy of the Cherry Tree, and admission to all basketball teams and track events on home floors.

The tax is paid in installments of one dollar a month, and decreases at that rate.

SOPHOMORES TO HOLD SMOKER; FRASER AND CROISSANT SPEAK

Dean Everett Fraser and Professor DeWitt C. Croissant will speak at the Sophomore smoker to be held at the Sigma Chi house, 1333 Fifteenth street next Monday night. The smoker was planned as an entertainment to the football squad, but as the Georgetown game will be played three days later, Coach Sullivan will hold a football meeting at the Y. M. C. A. on Monday night and the squad will not be able to attend the smoker.

About 200 guests are expected for whom there will be provided plenty to eat and smoke. Arrangements have been made for some music.

Tickets at 25 cents have been issued to men in all departments for sale and all classes are urged to attend.

GIRLS WILL CHEER

The girls are going to cheer and sing at the G. U. game. For several weeks after chapel they have been practicing new songs and cheers. Another rehearsal will be held today. Miss Martha McGrew is leading the movement.

The Georgetown Game

The team meets Georgetown on Thanksgiving. Whether it wins or loses, it is going to be a glorious battle. All interested in the University should attend and see each player do his best.

The rooting must be loud and continuous. The Buff and Blue section must be filled. Every man and woman in the University must do his duty.

The girls show the proper spirit. They are going to join the regular cheering section.

It will be a big day, perhaps the biggest, in the athletics of this year. And we should make the most of it.

The Military Course

A course in military science and drill has been proposed for the University and sixty men have agreed to take it. In order to have the War Department assign an officer to the University as professor of military science and issue regular army equipment, there must be a hundred.

A hundred men should want to train to be army officers in case of need. Aside from the value to the country of trained commissioned officers in time of war, the individual will be benefitted by knowing a little of military matters.

The one-year course that the University is attempting to start now is a step to the establishment of a unit of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps later. The present project does not bind the student to more than a year of military work.

The chance to have military work in the University should not slip by this year. The students most interested should secure the forty more necessary students to establish the course. And such action to be effective, must be taken at once.

It would be a great benefit to the University if President Wilson acts favorably on the proposal to give government employees in the departments a half-holiday on Saturday the year round. The student employed by the government leads a life of few idle moments. He works from 9 until 4:30 o'clock, attends classes until nearly seven, and then often works in laboratories until 10 o'clock. He studies on the side. Saturday afternoons would give him a little more time to breathe, to have a little pleasure to use for his own desires.

George Washington University will be the guests of Georgetown on Thanksgiving. In the enthusiasm of rooting and the excitement of the game, nothing must occur that will in the least reflect to the discredit of the University. This advice is not necessary to loyal students of the University.

The Law School deserves a new building. Its work and record is a credit to the University. It should have its own classrooms, properly equipped, an adequate library, and modern improvements throughout. Let us hope that its alumni, members of the legal profession, and friends of the University will answer its appeal for $100,000.

The Beauty Spot

By WILLIAM GILLIGAN

'I ain't much force on thinkin', 'cause I never went to school beyond the lawful limits—I admit I was a fool. But now and then a query comes a-straggling to my brain, an' asks me what a thing is for, when reasons ain't quite plain. For instance, jest the other night I 'us riding on the car, not thinkin' much o' nothin'—wasn't goin' very far—when a purty little woman dressed in all the latest style, took my seat and sweetly thanked me as I stood up in the aisle. I ain't so often stricken with a face that makes me stare, but I couldn't help a-lookin' at the face before me there. My flirtin' days are over—as I guess you might surmise—but I couldn't keep from blinkin' and from lookin' at her eyes. An' the queerest thing about it, when my glance was goin' by, it would trip upon the sticker at the corner of her eye. Then I looked at all the people who was ridin' on the car, to see if any others wore a stickin' plaster star. By Jove, there was another, with a mighty winsome face, but the stickin' plaster sticker occupied a different place. She had it on her upper lip—I'm old and rather slow—but I didn't fail at noticin' her perfect Cupid's bow. Well, the car was gettin' crowded, an' I had to move along to the tune of the conductor's "Will you please move forward" song; so I wobbled several paces towards the front, and bless your soul, I saw another woman with an artificial mole. She didn't wear it near her lip, which seemed a trifle thin, but the dot was proudly stickin' on a purty shapely chin. Now the thing got me to thinkin'—I was curious to know just why a purty woman tries to spoil her beauty so. Then the reason dawned upon me, an' it's all as plain as day: Can you blame a lovely woman for a-wearin' dots that way? 'Cause it's lady-like and proper for the least coquettish creature to call a man's attention to her most bewitching feature.

HINTS BY THE HORSE EDITOR
By H. E. Fell

There is always one standing argument against horseback riding. It is the rider the day after.

Warning. If you are inclined to try your luck at jolting along to the glances of safe and sane Sunday autoists, don't select an English saddle—the saddle that was invented because of the scarcity of leather due to the European War. Your choice will result in a situation similar to an English joke.

The Pleasureable Order of Pegasus is and isn't rightly named. We looked up in the dictionary to find what it all meant. "Pegasus—Myth. Flying horse, connected with poetical inspiration." Which is misleading regarding last Sunday's ride, when the riders did most of the flying, and the poetry inspired could not be printed in The Hatchet. And then that word "pleasureable." But it's a good name. It had us wondering.

(Note to Managing Editor—This may be a little harsh, but was written immediately after the return from the ride. Novices should not be scared.)

Private advices from 1335 H street northwest state that numerous medical students have ordered two tickets, one crysanthemum, two megaphones, two Buff and Blue ribbonets, two hoarse voices and one girl for the Turkey Day game.

The use of "Turkey Day" instead of "Thanksgiving Day" in the contemporary press shows the fundamental interests of the American people.

One professor came languidly into his class room the other day, slipped into his chair and began his lecture this way: "I blew up my automobile tire this morning, and I am all tired out."

The reason why "The Honorable So-and-So" is no longer used in Washington is that Washingtonians know politicians too well. A professor's statement, not ours.

There is one satisfaction in writing quiz papers. You know that the prof. will have to correct them.

THANKSGIVING RECESS SOON;
NO HATCHET NEXT FRIDAY

Next Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, to next Saturday, December 2, both inclusive, are holidays in all departments of the University.

As next Friday is a holiday, and editors as well as other students want to eat turkey, see George Washington win from Georgetown, and catch up in back work, there will be no issue on that day. The next issue will appear December 8.

E. H. SOTHERN PROPOSES G. W. U. DRAMA SCHOOL

Urges National School for Theater.
President Stockton Lauds Idea,
But Drama Chair Not Possible Now

A national school for the study of the drama, to be affiliated with George Washington University, is advanced by E. H. Sothorn, the Shakespearean actor.

"The founding of a school for the theater seems to me," said Mr. Sothorn, "a Utopian dream, but such an institution is necessary. The proper way to study acting is on the stage, and acting Shakespeare is expensive. After acting Hamlet I educated myself as to voice, gesture, my whole behavior, both physical and mental. People generally do not realize that this education is necessary."

"If such a school is founded, Washington is the logical place. George Washington University could establish a chair of drama. It would be a national school and all men would see the wisdom of subscribing and all actors would gladly contribute their valuable experience."

President Stockton, when interviewed as to the feasibility of establishing such a school in connection with the University, said: "The proposition meets with my earnest sympathy and I speak for the University when I say that a drama school in Washington would be welcomed by it. If a chair should be endowed, the University would do all in its power to make it a success and to co-operate with the Drama School. The University now offers to its students an opportunity to study Shakespearean plays in Dean Wilbur's courses on the tragedies and comedies."

"Mr. Sothorn has pointed out the need for a drama school in his book, 'Reminiscences,' and has shown how costly is the staging of Shakespearean plays, but the New York Nation in reviewing this book makes the practical suggestion of minimizing the cost of costumes and scenery and appealing to the intellect alone."

LIEUT. BAXTER RESIGNS

Examination to Fill Vacancy To Be Held Soon

First Lieut. Chester C. Baxter, G. W. U. Coast Artillery Company, N. G. D. C., has resigned from the organization because of lack of time to devote to it. Lieut. Baxter's loss will be greatly felt by the members of the Company, who appreciate his disinterested work of the company since its organization.

His resignation leaves a vacancy among the officers to be filled and an examination of candidates for the place will probably be held in the latter part of December. The examination will be based primarily upon coast Artillery work, the infantry drill being of minor consideration.

TO HAVE WINTER SERMON

A new University function will be established when Rev. Clarence Barbour, of the Rochester Theological Seminary, preaches the winter convocation sermon to the gowned seniors, faculty and trustees at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church on Sunday, February 18, at 4 o'clock.

Dean Hodgkins Speaks To Engineers Tonight

The Engineering Society will hold its first meeting of the year at the Sigma Nu Fraternity House, 1739 P street northwest, this evening at 7:45 o'clock.

There will be a discussion and vote on the new constitution and a tentative program for the year will be presented, after which Dr. H. L. Hodgkins, dean of the College of Engineering, will talk on "Engineering as a Profession and the Relation of the Engineer to the Public." A buffet luncheon will be served at the conclusion of the Dean's talk.

A copy of the proposed constitution is now posted on the Engineering Society bulletin board on the fourth floor, A. & S. Building, and others are there for free distribution. Among the changes proposed are the following:

Heretofore, alumni of the Engineering College and members of the faculty have not been eligible for membership. An amendment proposed to section 1 of article 3 makes them eligible for membership in the Society.

The time for the annual election of officers has been changed from the beginning to the end of the school year (Section 1, Article 6.) This change is made for the purpose of giving the officers of the Society more time in which to arrange the program of meetings and other work of the Society.

The dues for membership in the Society have been changed from ten cents a month to one dollar for the college year, and provision is made that members not paying their dues before December 31 will be charged $1.25.

RIDERS HAVE FIRST "FLIGHT"

Two "Pegs" Tumble Off—Horses Would Not Go Slow

Two falls and one tangle resulted from the first "flight" of the Pleasurable Order of Pegasus, the organization of horsewomen and horsemen of the University, which took place on the Speedway bridge paths last Sunday morning.

The riders started out from 1622 L street with instructions to go slowly so that less experienced "Pegs" might become used to their mounts. But the horses, in spite of their riders, cantered cheerfully along.

Leon Tashoff suffered the first fall when his horse dodged around a tree and threw him. Watson Davis was the next victim. His mount shied at a projecting manhole, threw him off and started home, but was captured by Charles Kothe and Herbert Chiddick, and after Mr. Davis had mounted again, the flight was resumed. Miss Bessie Price's horse got his forefeet entangled in a wire tree brace, but Miss Louise Lowber extricated him before he could injure himself or his rider and ordered him never to do such a thing again. The flight covered about eight miles.

Charles Kothe, Watson Davis, Thomas Maher, Herbert Chiddick, Leon Tashoff, Miss Louise Lowber, Miss Elizabeth Cullen, Miss Florence O'Donnell, Miss Bessie Price, and Miss Mary Speiser composed the party.

A paper chase is planned for Thanksgiving morning.

Perhaps you have read and wondered

The girls are going to have one of their "big times" at the Women's University Club party tonight. Every co-ed is to wear her oldest and shabbiest clothes in an earnest effort to see how crazy she can look. There is a prize offered for the worst costume. Kid games and "rube" refreshments are on the program. Miss Louise Gardner, '19, is in charge.

MAY HAVE ATHLETIC LOCKERS

Track Men Want Facilities—Football Men May Use Them Also

Efforts are being made by Manager James and the members of the track squad to have lockers and a shower installed in 2017 G street. At present the accommodations in 2024 G street for the track men are inadequate. The installation of lockers would save the cost of rent at the Y. M. C. A. and aid the runners materially in their work, is the claim of Manager James.

If possible enough lockers will be installed for the use of the football men next year, which will cut down the expenses of athletics.

No change is contemplated in the training quarters of the basketball team.

GREEK DELEGATES ELECT

Plan Football Smoker for Football Squad December 8

The Interfraternity Association met at the Delta Tau Delta house, 1810 N street, on November 15 and elected the following officers: Russell Duval, Delta Tau Delta, president; M. Q. Cannon, Psi Omega, vice-president and treasurer, Mr. Hunt, Kappa Alpha, secretary.

It was decided to hold the Interfraternity smoker on or about December 8 in honor of the football squad. In place of the speeches, which have been the feature of past smokers, some good interesting stunts by the men of the various fraternities will be substituted. The following arrangements committee was appointed: Mr. Morris, Sigma Chi; Mr. Lupkin, Sigma Phi Epsilon and M. Q. Cannon, Psi Omega.

Robert Ash, Theta Delta Chi, was appointed a committee to secure information in regard to the annual Interfraternity Dance. The next meeting of the association will be held at the Sigma Nu house, 1739 P street, on December 13.

KAPPA SIGMA

Prof. W. L. Prince of Richmond, the D. G. M. of Kappa Sigma in District 4, will be the guest of Alpha Eta Chapter on November 24.

J. L. Ludwig of William and Mary College, W. W. Hague, Washington and Jefferson '16, were recent visitors at the chapter house.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

Sigma Alpha Epsilon announces the pledging of John D. Cobb, M. H. Johnson, John Paul Earnest, Jr., and Cato B. Hurd.

SIGMA KAPPA

Sigma Kappa announces the pledging of Miss Marjorie Gleason, '20.

Sigma Kappa entertained at lunch on last Saturday in honor of Miss Florence Carl, '13, Alpha chapter.

The alumnae chapter of Sigma Kappa entertained for Miss Florence Carl on Monday evening.

CHI OMEGA

Chi Omega recently gave a luncheon in honor of Miss Pierson H. Bristow.

Miss Charlotte Stimpson went over to Annapolis to attend last Saturday's hop.

OMEGA TAU SIGMA

Dean Buckingham has invited the chapter to an oyster roast to be held at his farm in Virginia.

Recent initiations were Louis P. Drinkwater and William G. Bengel, both Vet. '19.

The chapter held an informal smoker Saturday.

SIGMA CHI

The Washington Alumni Chapter and the local chapter enjoyed a dinner together at the New Cochran Hotel last Wednesday evening.

Bruce Robison is back with us again after a strenuous campaign season out in Indianapolis.

Sigma Chi held an initiation last Friday and Saturday.

KAPPA ALPHA

A number of Kappa Alphas will go to Baltimore over the Thanksgiving holidays to attend the Biennial Council of the Ammen Province of Kappa Alpha.

Kappa Alpha held its initiation of pledges last Saturday.

The Annual Convocation for the alumni and the active chapter of Kappa Alpha will be held tomorrow at the chapter house.

KAPPA PSI

Dr. F. T. Chamberlin, Jr., represented the local Beta Lambda chapter of Kappa Psi Fraternity, at the Kappa Psi convention, held in Atlanta, Ga., November 13 to 16. While there Dr. Chamberlin had the opportunity of attending the clinics, lectures and exhibits of the Southern Medical Association.

Kappa Psi announces the initiation of the following men: Fred Reed, Aubrey Fisher, Waldo H. Jones, T. C. Thompson, Paul Schwartz, Jos. Kreiselman, Wallace M. Yater.

Kappa Psi held a smoker in honor of its pledges last Friday night. Drs. Gannon and Nelms made addresses.

THETA DELTA CHI

The Chi Deuteron charge announces the initiation of J. Emil Larsen, Columbian '18, McClure Kelly, Col. Col. '20, and Cassius M. Dowell, Law '18.

Brother "Ike" Chapman, Pi Deuteron '14, deputy custodian of the archives of the fraternity, was a visitor at the Charge House during the past week.

Hollis Godfrey, Tufts '95, president of the Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, was a visitor the past week.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

The dance held last Friday night in honor of the initiates at the local chapter house was attended by over thirty couples.

Phi Sigma Kappa will hold a tea at the chapter house from 4 to 7 on Thanksgiving day.

War Council Becomes Impromptu Frosh Prom

A meeting, a note, a knock, a band, a dance, some fun. Freshman, were you at that impromptu prom. last Friday evening in the A. & S. Assembly Hall?

The freshmen of Columbian College met, discussed their part in the Freshman prom. and then the men held a council of war. Some weighty matter of class policy bothered them. The girls were excused.

In the rest room they waited for the results. The band was endeavoring to secure harmony across the hall in the German room. One girl scribbled a note, slipped it under the Assembly Hall door. A commotion, meeting adjourned.

"Mr. Bandleader, don't you want to practice some dance music?" He did. The band took the platform. Assembly Hall chairs were piled aside, the floor cleared. Couples danced and danced. They said they had a good time.

"Won't those who didn't come be sorry when they hear what they missed," was the general opinion.

DR. ABRAM SIMON TO SPEAK

Menorah Society to Hear First of Lecture Series Tomorrow Night

Dr. Abram Simon, Rabbi of the Washington Hebrew Congregation, will deliver a lecture before the Menorah Society tomorrow night in the A. & S. Assembly Hall on "What is Reform Judaism?"

Dr. Simon's lecture is the first of a series to be delivered before the Menorah Society this year. The Intercollegiate Menorah Association, of which the G. W. U. Menorah is a chapter, will send here several lectures of national repute. Among these will probably be Prof. H. M. Kalen of the University of Wisconsin; Henry Hurwitz, Chancellor of the Intercollegiate Menorah Association, and Prof. Richard Gottheil, of Columbia University.

CHEMISTS TO INSPECT BEER

The Chemical Society will inspect Heurich's brewery and its products tomorrow afternoon. All members and their friends are to meet in front of the Arts and Sciences Building at 2 o'clock. The students will be shown the process of brewing from the malt to the finished product. This trip is an annual feature.

TALKS ON JOURNALISM

Prof. De Witt C. Croissant talked to the newspaper vocational group at Business High School last Friday morning on "The Teaching of Journalism." Allan Davis, M. S. '96, is principal of the Business High School and is the originator of the plan of dividing high school students into sections according to their selected vocations.

MAY BROADEN A. & S. COURSES

Changes in courses of the Department of Arts and Sciences were proposed at the meeting of that faculty on Monday.

A re-arrangement of the groups in Columbian College, providing for pre-medical work more definitely will be made probably. A broadening of the engineering courses is also under consideration. Courses leading to bachelor of science in naval architecture, chemical engineering, mining engineering, architectural engineering, and naval architecture, have been considered.

PHI CHI

Phi Chi announces the pledging of Russell K. Hollingsworth of the Freshman Medical Class.

Phi Chi held the first of its series of smokers planned for the year on November 10 at the Tea Cup Inn. Dr. C. F. White gave a talk on the Mayo Clinic. A feature was a musical program in which native Hawaiian music was prominent.

Phi Chi announces the initiation of the following: Charlton King, Wilbur L. Bowen, Oscar Campbell, J. Connan Doyle, Volar J. La Ford, Clifford W. Gardner, Richmond J. Beck, and Henry W. Leetch.

PHI MU

Phi Mu entertained at a birthday luncheon Thursday in honor of Miss Betty Voorhees.

DELTA TAU DELTA

Gamma Eta chapter of Delta Tau Delta will hold a dance at the chapter house, 1810 N street, Friday night, December 1.

The Sunday night suppers at the Delta house have sprung into such popularity that a system of relays has been introduced. The Alumnae eat, then the actives and then if there is anything left the "Goats" get their chance.

Departmental Notes

LAW SCHOOL

The election of class officers for the first year Law class was held November 1. A nominating committee appointed by Dean Fraser presented the nominations and the following were elected: President, Carl Fairbanks; vice-president, Whitney P. McCoy; secretary-treasurer, Roland Follmer; class editor, Joseph B. Schaaff. A meeting of the class will be held soon to draw up a constitution and formulate plans by which members of the class may be brought in closer touch with one another. "The class feels that in most of the law classes of previous years there has been a lack of a spirit of unification, and hopes that by introducing some activity other than the usual rush to the elevator, an interest may be aroused which will be helpful to the several University activities."

COLUMBIAN COLLEGE

Misses Sidney Burleson, Katherine Heron, Kathleen Moses, Edith Aultman, and Elizabeth Wilbur have gone to New York to attend the Army-Navy game tomorrow.

Misses Minna Gill and Elizabeth Cullen have gone to New Haven, Conn., to attend the Harvard-Yale game.

The junior class of Columbian College met in the A. & S. Assembly Hall last Friday evening, for its annual election of officers: President, F. M. Fadeley; vice-president, Miss Eleanor Stanton; treasurer, R. M. Saunders; class editor, Miss Lucy Burlingame; secretary, Miss Lettie Stewart; sergeant-at-arms, William Gilligan. Miss Stanton, vice-president last year, presided.

Rev. Charles F. Edwards, of Epiphany Chapel, made the address at chapel on Wednesday.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

Roy H. Heald and A. B. Campbell, who have been working during the summer at the experimental farm of the Department of Agriculture upon the much-discussed question of the effect of an electric field upon the growth and development of plants, are now working up the results which will be published soon.

J. H. Wilson, M. E., vice-president of the Engineering Society, is finishing the writing of a text book on pattern making for use in secondary schools and colleges. Mr. Wilson has had a long and varied experience in most of the large pattern shops throughout the country and has also taught the subject for the last four years at Technical High School.

Dean Hodgkins has asked the Engineering Society to consider the engineering publications now received by the University and to make recommendations as to any changes which the students may suggest. Any engineering student having any suggestions on this matter should communicate with an officer of the Society.

Melvin A. Fisher is engaged in experimental work on the detection of flaws in iron and steel rails, "I" beams, and machine parts, etc., by magnetic means. This eliminates the destruction of the specimen. The results of his work will soon be published in the bulletins of the Bureau of Standards.

MEDICAL SCHOOL

Dr. M. Catzva, '16, is a resident physician at Casualty Hospital.

Dr. M. W. Lyon, Jr., of the Medical Faculty, was a contributor to the last number of the "Journal of the American Medical Association." His Article was entitled "A Report on Two Cases of Congenital Absence of One Kidney."

It is rumored that several snappy and individual Medical yells will be heard at the Georgetown game.

The advisability of holding a Medical Prom. is being considered by students at the Medical School. The idea is gaining much favor among the students.

TEACHERS COLLEGE

The senior class of Teachers College has elected the following officers: Elmer L. Kayser, president; Susan H. Gardner, vice-president Mary M. Underwood, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Frances Evarts went to Annapolis Saturday to attend the Naval Academy "hop."

Miss Evarts and Elmer Kayser are doing practice teaching at the Orphanage.

GRADUATE STUDIES

Dean Charles E. Munroe spent a few days in Pittsburgh last week on government business.

ARCHITECTURAL

The first dancing party of the season of the Architectural Club, was held on Tuesday evening at the Potomac Boat House. There were about seventy young dancers who thoroughly enjoyed the evening and lauded the following committee who were in charge of the arrangements: W. W. Taylor, chairman, J. J. Carey, C. W. Weeks and L. L. Browne. Prof. and Mrs. Harris chaperoned the party, and Beverly H. Harris was the designer of the unique dance programs.
